The Farley family legacy of giving drives advances in heart care at HonorHealth

A $6 million gift by the Farley Family Charitable Foundation will standardize high-tech cardio diagnostic equipment across the HonorHealth system and support expansion of the HonorHealth Cardiovascular Center of Excellence.

“It’s appropriate that our largest single charitable commitment ever is to HonorHealth Foundation,” says Stuart Farley. “Our parents first recognized the opportunity to contribute to the quality of healthcare in Arizona and taught us the joy in giving back. We are proud to continue supporting the work that was so important to them.”

With this gift, the Farley Family Charitable Foundation enables HonorHealth to install standardized echocardiogram technology across the six-hospital system. With identical ECHO machines at each HonorHealth medical center, employees can step in confidently at any location. This cross-training provides valuable flexibility as hospitals deal with a shortage of healthcare workers.

“This gift is truly remarkable, as a new generation upholds an 18-year legacy of investment in HonorHealth, started by Jim and Nancy Farley,” notes Jared Langkilde, president and CEO of HonorHealth Foundation. Following the passing of their parents, the Farley children have continued to invest in HonorHealth through their family foundation.

Generational giving continues to make a difference to the future of all Arizonans.

HonorHealth priorities affirm Foundation focus in 2022 - part two

Last month we outlined fundraising priorities to support HonorHealth and our community, which included: Cardiovascular Centers of Excellence, Desert Mission Endowment and the Greatest Need Fund. Our other strategic priorities for 2022 include the following programs for transformational impact. Consider how you might contribute to the growth of these vital services to benefit our patients and our community.

HonorHealth Research and Innovation Institute (HRII)

Thanks to generous donors like you, community well-being is moving forward in more ways than you can imagine. With your support HRII is discovering new drugs, developing novel treatments and technologies and expanding scientific knowledge. All to benefit patients and families in our community and around the world who face everything from cancer and cardiovascular disease to neurological conditions. Embracing innovation to improve medicine today and shape its future tomorrow, we're one of the nation's foremost research organizations—offering healing and hope.

Integrative medicine – a holistic approach to wellness

Integrative medicine is an evidence-based, healing-oriented approach that combines conventional medicine and complementary (alternative) therapies. Using a team-based approach it looks for opportunities to improve your overall wellness, based on what's important to you to help you live your best life. The therapies work towards improving your overall health and wellness, while focusing on nutrition, exercise, sleep and stress management.

If you are living with chronic health issues that aren't easily managed by conventional treatments and medication, you may want to consider integrative medicine, which also incorporates acupuncture, massage, supplements and more.

Behavioral Health Patient Assistance Endowment

HonorHealth is opening the Via Linda Behavioral Hospital with a newly formed partnership to significantly improve access to the full continuum of behavioral health programs and services to meet growing community needs. The dedicated Behavioral Health Patient Assistance Endowment will provide financial assistance to help patients undergoing treatment, whether outpatient or partial hospitalization, receive the continued quality of care they need post-discharge.

Your gift to any of these priority programs helps drive transformational care and touch countless lives in our community.

Great play, great fun FORE a great cause

The HonorHealth Foundation Pro-Am is scheduled for Friday, April 1, 2022. Join us for a fabulous round of golf at Grayhawk Gold Club to support two priority programs: the Greatest Needs Fund and the Desert Mission Endowment.

Teams are being formed now. Each golf team will be comprised of an amateur foursome coupled with a golf

February is Heart Month

As Neil Diamond sings, "turn on your heartlight. Let it shine wherever you go..." Touching words as we celebrate the power of the heart this month with a grateful thank you for the healing and compassion you give to others through your caring heart.

From gifts that support our Cardiovascular Centers of Excellence to echocardiogram technology and world-class cardiothoracic surgery—hearts in our community are keeping the beat because of your generosity.

Why are we celebrating heart month and the act of giving? Because scientific research provides compelling data to support the notion that giving—one's talents, time and treasures—is a powerful pathway for finding fulfillment, purpose and meaning. The outcome... the health of the heart, mind and body is elevated and communities are strengthened.

Happy Heart Month! Thank you for making a difference!

Shaping the quality of healthcare in our community through philanthropy

Chuck and Alice Palmer hold a unique appreciation for recognizing the hidden potential in process and infrastructure improvements to elevate a hospital to its highest potential. Through their generosity and insight, HonorHealth was able to pioneer advanced patient safety protocols and establish a fleet of germ-zapping robots to drastically reduce the risk of infection in our hospitals, safeguarding countless patients and staff.

Chuck saw the value in cutting-edge technology to help patients regain mobility and balance following stroke or injury and funded new equipment for outpatient rehabilitation therapy at HonorHealth Thompson Peak Medical Center.

“Untold patients may never know how abundantly their HonorHealth care was impacted by the generosity of this one couple,” marvels Jan Miller, former HonorHealth Foundation gift officer, who has enjoyed a warm relationship with the Palmers.

Most recently, the Palmers committed a transformational gift to ensure patients have access to the most advanced heart care. The result is a new, state of the art cardiac and vascular operating suite at HonorHealth Scottsdale Shea, an important addition to their Cardiovascular Center of Excellence.
